Conditions of Wheat Land.

The other is to plow the land early, before it becomes hard under the August sun, and roll it as soon as plowed to keep it moist enough to pulverize with the use of the harrow. After the first rain harrow and roll the ground. If time and rains can be had, in about two that you see in rain water are young or three weeks repeat the harrowing and rolling.

At least work with the harrow and roller enough to thoroughly pulverize the soil as deep as the drill teeth may go. Another point in this theory is to secure a solid bottom under a garden-like seed bed. In favor of the former theory | water two or three times a day. When is the fact that it requires less work. milk pails and dairy utensile are not It is claimed by its advocates that properly cleaned, particles of milk the clods crumble down by the action of the frost and rains, and protect and nourish the young plants germs, which thus finds an easy enat the time they most need it. We would sugthey have another advantage, viz : their stand of wheat is not so thick on the cloddy land, since much of moisture, or been buried under or the nine years since its beginning, between the clods. As it is, men who generally have all the farm in cultivation, and are reaching out to get as many acres into wheat as possible, will adopt selling, 35 to 38c. the rough and ready method, and they will put on one-half more seed than the men who have fewer acres and better cultivated.

The latter will put on more work and less seed, and will have more comfort and fewer breakages in machinery when he comes to cut his wheat. In the spring he will have an even seed bed for his grass seed if he wishes grass and clover to follow his wheat.

After all, if the man who thoroughly cultivates his land before sowing his wheat does not get any more wheat per acre, it is easy to show that he looses nothing by his extra labor before committing his selected seed to the ground. He need not sow as much seed by half. He here saves a half-bushel of wheat or fifty cents on each acre, which will pay him for a deal of extra labor. He can harvest at less cost and less risk of breakage of reaper. as to the best books for use during the coming musical season, it is a pleasure to inroduc to their notice so fresh good and useful a book as the one by W. O. Persins, who now, by the set of Hami ton College, takes on the well deserved title of Musical Doctor. From the elegant title to the last page the space is most acceptably filled. The Elementary Course is ample in quantity, and has numerous new tunes for practice, which

Abundance of good Sacred Music, in the form of Metrical Tunes and Anthoms fills a large proportion of the book, and renders it a good Collection of Church Music. The numerous Glees and Harmonized songs add to the attraction, and make this an excellent work for Musical Societies and Conventions.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care. Its effects are as wonderful and as satisfactory as ever. It restores gray or faded hair to its vonthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching cooling, soothing sensation of great comfort, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean. By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong. As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the Best Preparation for its intended purposes." Price, One Dollar.
